

Doing Time with Nehru - The Story of an Indian-Chinese Family

By Yin Marsh

Zubaan, India, 2016. Paperback. Book Condition: New. New. 197 x 132 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. It s midnight and there are fists pounding on the door. Authoritative voices shouting, We re coming in! Get on the floor! A few terrorized minutes later a family member is dragged out by armed men, disappearing into the night. This scenario is the greatest fear of many twentieth-century families and to the unlucky, it s a lived reality. For the ethnic Chinese who had been settled in Northern India for many years, 1962 was filled with moments of terror like these. After the Sino-Indian Border War broke out in 1962, on the authorization of Prime Minister Nehru more than two thousand Chinese-Indians were torn from their homes and placed in local jails before being transported more than one thousand miles to the Deoli internment camp in the Rajasthan desert. Born in Calcutta in 1949 and raised in Darjeeling, Yin Marsh was just thirteen years old when first her father was taken and then she, her grandmother, and eight year old brother were forcibly removed from their home and thrown first into Darjeeling Jail. Upon arrival in Deoli, Yin and her family...

READ ONLINE
[2.7 MB]

Reviews

The ebook is straightforward in go through preferable to recognize. It typically does not charge too much. Its been designed in an exceptionally straightforward way and it is just following i finished reading this book where basically altered me, affect the way i really believe.

-- Dr. Reta Murphy

It becomes an amazing pdf which i actually have at any time read through. This can be for all those who statte there had not been a worthy of reading through. You wont sense monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for relating to should you check with me).

-- Claud Kris